New York Typists Win in Contests in Philadelphia.

(Special to The Evening World.)

PHILADELPHIA, March 14.—Official announcement of the awards in the typewriting contest held at the Business Show and Efficiency Exposition last night were made today. William F. Oswald of Philadelphia won first prize in the contest for professionals by writing for one hour at the rate of 120 words a minute. The world's record is 130 words. J. L. Host of New York won second prize with a speed of 127 words a minute. In the amateur contest, one half hour, Miss Rosalie Linz of New York was first, 123 words a minute. Miss Rose Blom of New York second, writing 125, some errors counting against her. Miss Anna Gold of New York was third with a rate of 121 words.

PATRICK'S PARADE SQUABBLE SHOWS NO SIGNS OF PEACE

A. O. H. Factions at War in Court, Which Passes Case to Another Judge.

Supreme Court Justice Edward J. Gavegan listened just long enough today to arguments in the injunction and mandamus proceeding instituted by the "regular" faction of the Ancient Order of Hibernians to learn that the rival factions who are fighting over the St. Patrick's Day parade permit were not looking for a good old fashioned reconciliation.

When Justice Gavegan looked upon Roderick J. Kennedy, county president of the regular A. O. H. faction, and J. Powers Donnellan, his attorney, and saw evidence of preparedness in piles of affidavits, etc., and noticed similar preparation on the part of Coroner Tim Healy's constituents, who represent the other faction, the idea of a reconciliation appeared to him.

"I should be very glad," the court said, "and I have made myself clear on this point before—if I could be instrumental in bringing your clients together; but whatever may be their relative numerical strength, their aggregate, I am sure it must be very small compared with the large number of persons who deprecate the unseemly spectacle that has been presented to the people of this city as a result of this unfortunate controversy."

"Feeling as I do therefore, I think it would be better for both sides to submit their alleged grievances to some Justice of this court who has not the same reason to feel as I do. Are you gentlemen sure that this matter cannot be settled out of court?"

"That is impossible," said Mr. Donnellan.

"It is too bad," said Justice Gavegan. "I am really sorry."

"Your Honor," John J. O'Connell, attorney for the Healyites said "while I have no question in my mind concerning the legal issues involved, I am as anxious to have peace and avoid a row of the sort that has been courted by my adversaries, running into print and saying all that they had to say and trying their case in the newspapers. These."

But Mr. O'Connell's remarks, ending in a louder tone than that in which they had begun, did not make peace, and Mr. Donnellan spoke up just as loudly to say that the issue "must and will be settled by a court."

"How many organizations do you represent?" asked the court of both lawyers.

"I represent fifty," said Mr. O'Connell.

"By that same line of reasoning," said Mr. Donnellan, "I represent 550, for the other side's figuring is absolutely false."

"I see now there is no hope of a reconciliation," the court said. "In that event I will refer the whole matter to another Justice."

The name of the other Justice was not mentioned, but it was later stated that the papers had been sent to Justice Greenbaum, whom both sides considered perfectly neutral.

M'CUE AGAIN ATTACKS WILLARD-MORAN BOUT IN ASSEMBLY SPEECH

Training of Men Doesn't Insure Honest Match, Says Ex-Fighting Legislator.

(Special to The Evening World.)

ALBANY, N. Y., March 14.—Martin McCue, ex-prize fighter and Assemblyman from New York City, made an attack to-day in the Assembly on the Willard-Moran fight, charging that it was not on the level. He failed in an attempt to put through a resolution calling on the State Boxing Commission to withdraw permission for the fight. Speaker Sweet ruling that the motion was lost in a confused way and may vote. But this defect did not prevent McCue delivering a whirlwind speech full of short arm punches against Jess Willard.

"My critics have stated that I am an ex-prize fighter," said the Assemblyman, "as if that was a disgrace. I was a prize fighter in my day and that fact is the proudest hair in my pompadour."

"Whoever heard of a man training for a real fight living in the heart of New York in luxurious quarters in an up-to-date hotel, taking a little walk in the morning and doing half an hour's boxing in the afternoon. Real training is a more strenuous operation. I looked Willard over and I know from my own experience that he was not in condition. He may have changed his mode of training since then, but the way he was going certainly did not make the match look good to me."

51 LEGISLATORS O. K. EVENING WORLD BILLS

Canvass of City Assemblymen Register Approval of Home Rule Laws.

Up to date fifty-one New York City representatives in the Legislature have expressed approval of home rule legislation suggested by The Evening World, and later set forth by Mayor Mitchell.

The Tax Reduction Committee, organized to assist the Mayor, is making a canvass of the city legislators. The latest Assemblymen heard from are Caesar R. F. Barra, Henry S. Schimmel, James F. Mahony, R. Hunter McGuinness, Jeremiah F. Twomey, Robert L. Tudor, Mayer Levy, S. A. Coniffe, Jacob Goldstein and Daniel P. Furell.

The Tax Reduction Committee reports to-day: "Eleven have now expressed in favor of the main part of the program, but say they are doubtful of one or two of the bills, the addition to this list being Assemblyman Alfred D. Bell. Three have expressed general sympathy but have declined to say how they will vote. Three have declined to give any assurance of either support or opposition."

"Only one of the eleven representatives heard from this morning refused to give his assent to the program. This was Senator Alvah W. Burlingame Jr. of the Eleventh District. He does not want to commit himself until he sees the legislation in its final form."

TWO WOMEN CLAIM PRISONER AS HUBBY

Superfluity of Wives Spoils Plea for Clemency on Robbery Charge, So He 'Goes Up'

When David Whitmore, twenty-nine years old of No. 525 Sixth Street, was arraigned before Judge Delehanty in General Sessions to-day, for sentence on the charge of stealing a pocketbook from a young woman on a Sixth Avenue surface car Jan. 15, he was confronted by two women, who each called him husband.

Whitmore had written Judge Delehanty a long letter from the Tombs, begging for a suspended sentence on the ground that if he were sent to prison, his wife and baby would become charges upon the city.

"I received your letter," Judge Delehanty told Whitmore, "and have had your case looked into. I find you have a superfluity of wives. On Jan. 20, 1914, you married a woman at the Olivet Memorial Church, by whom you have had one child. When you married her you had a wife and four children living with your own mother."

"In the pocketbook you stole from the woman on the car was a bank book representing the earnings of a poor shop girl. You craved her name from that book and wrote in your own name. By showing this bank book to a young woman you met in a moving picture theatre in the Bronx you induced her to become engaged to you and was about to marry her when you were arrested for the crime. You are a bigamist as well as a thief."

Whitmore acknowledged the truth of what Judge Delehanty had said. He was sentenced to Sing Sing Prison for not less than five years nor more than nine years and six months.

Eat What You Will, Food Makes Not Fat

It is a mistaken theory that food makes fat. It is not the food you eat, but the way it is digested that makes fat. The secret of Marmola tablets. They will reduce the fat that is now on your person at the rate of from 12 to 15 ounces a day, and they will not cause you the least inconvenience or injury. You may eat early or late, you may eat still or run about, it will not make any difference. Just put a tablet in your purse or your pocket when you go out to a dinner. After each meal take one of the Marmola tablets and rest assured that the meal will not harm you or make you grow more fat. As well at every drug store or ask for them at your druggist's, you may receive a package from the makers. The Marmola Company, 25 Monroe St., Detroit, Mich. The price per large case of the Marmola tablets is 75 cents—Advt.

BANKER YOUNG BACK AND READY TO TESTIFY

Banker George W. Young, whose testimony before the Thompson Investigating Committee first called attention to the $200,000 commitment and obligations, said to be convinced in the contract for third-tracking the elevated railroads, has returned to

New York. He told a reporter for The Evening World to-day that he is ready to go on the witness stand whenever the Thompson Committee calls him and answer the committee's questions.

"I have already testified fully in reply to all their questions," he said. "I have never been a volunteer witness, but when after weeks of trying they served a subpoena on me, I told the whole truth on the witness stand. I was in a very unpleasant position, but I neither concealed anything nor evaded anything."

"When I went to Florida to keep an engagement of long standing and learned that they wanted me I hurried back by the first train. I have been ever since at the disposal of the committee, ready to testify when called. I cannot understand how the Thompson committee permitted my brother, James Young, to go on the witness stand and tell the story he did."

Concert Tomorrow

Edison's Re-Creation of Marie Rappold's Voice

Come to this special concert and hear the exquisite Bach-Gounod Ave Maria as sung by this favorite soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company. Albert Spalding, the renowned American violinist, plays the violin obligato. Those who have heard Edison's re-creation of this gem of musical literature say that it proves beyond all doubt the superiority of his new art.

Other great artists on this program are Carl Flesch, violin virtuoso; Martinelli, the sturdy Metropolitan tenor and Alice Verlet, the Belgian coloratura soprano.

New Edison Diamond Disc

No Needles to Change Unbreakable Records

Take this opportunity to hear Thomas A. Edison's new musical instrument which re-creates the living tone—which brings you the music of great artists and renowned instrumentalists with that subtle breath of reality preserved. The genius of Edison has made mere mechanical reproduction of sound—the cold, metallic tone—a thing of the past.

You Are Invited to attend this concert and hear what the world's greatest inventor has done to bring good music within everyone's reach. Ask to hear your own favorites if you wish. No obligations. You will not be asked to purchase. Come.

The New Edison can be made to play other makes of records—just as they should be played.
